Comprehensive and integral international convention to promote and protect the rights and dignity of persons with disabilities

The General Assembly,

Reaffirming the principles and purposes of the Charter of the United Nations and the obligations contained in the relevant human rights instruments,

Reaffirming also that the Universal Declaration of Human Rights[1] proclaims that all human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights, and that everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set out therein, without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status,

Recalling its resolutions 37/52 of 3 December 1982, by which it adopted the World Programme of Action concerning Disabled Persons,[2] 48/96 of 20 December 1993, by which it adopted the Standard Rules on Equalization of Opportunities for Persons with Disabilities, and 54/121 of 17 December 1999,

Recalling also Economic and Social Council resolution 2000/10 of 27 July 2000 on further promotion of equalization of opportunities by, for and with persons with disabilities, as well as other relevant resolutions of the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the functional commissions of the Council,

Reaffirming the outcomes of the major United Nations conferences and summits and their respective follow-up reviews, in particular as they pertain to the promotion of the rights and well-being of persons with disabilities on an equal and participatory basis,

Noting with satisfaction that the Standard Rules on the Equalization of Opportunities for Persons with Disabilities play an important role in influencing the promotion, formulation and evaluation of policies, plans, programmes and actions at the national, regional and international levels to further the equalization of opportunities by, for and with persons with disabilities,

Recognizing that, despite different efforts made to increase cooperation and integration, and increasing disability awareness and sensitivity to disability issues, since the adoption of the World Programme of Action concerning Disabled Persons by Governments, bodies and relevant organizations of the United Nations system and non-governmental organizations, these efforts have not been sufficient to promote full and effective participation and opportunities for persons with disabilities in economic, social, cultural and political life,

Encouraged by the increasing interest of the international community in the promotion and protection of the rights and dignity of persons with disabilities in the world under a comprehensive and integral approach,

Deeply concerned about the disadvantaged and vulnerable situation faced by 600 million persons with disabilities around the world, and conscious that this situation makes it imperative to advance in the elaboration of an international instrument which will permit a substantial improvement in the quality of life of persons with disabilities on an equitable basis with other vulnerable groups,

Welcoming the recommendation of the World Conference against Racism, Racial Discrimination, Xenophobia and Related Intolerance to the General Assembly to consider elaborating a comprehensive and integral international convention to protect and promote the rights and dignity of persons with disabilities, including special provisions that address the discriminatory practices and treatment that affect them,

1. Decides to establish an Ad Hoc Committee open to the participation of all Member States and observers to the United Nations, for the purpose of elaborating a comprehensive and integral international convention to protect and promote the rights and dignity of persons with disabilities, based on the holistic approach in the work done in the field of social development, human rights and non-discrimination;

2. Decides also that, prior to the fifty-seventh session of the Assembly the Ad Hoc Committee shall hold two meetings, each of ten working days;

3. Invites States, relevant bodies and organizations of the United Nations system, including relevant human rights treaty bodies, the regional commissions, the Special Rapporteur of the Commission for Social Development monitoring the implementation of the Standard Rules on the Equalization of Opportunities for Persons with Disabilities, as well as intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations with an interest in the matter to make contributions to the work entrusted to the Ad Hoc Committee, based on the practice of the United Nations;

4. Requests the Secretary-General, with the support of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights and the Division for Social Policy and Development of the Secretariat, to submit to the Ad Hoc Committee prior to its first session a compilation of existing international legal instruments, documents and programmes which directly or indirectly address the situation of persons with disabilities, to include, inter alia, those of conferences, summits, meetings or international or regional seminars convened by the United Nations and intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations;

5. Also requests the Secretary-General to provide the Ad Hoc Committee with the outcome of the study undertaken pursuant to Commission on Human Rights resolution 2000/51 of 25 April 2000[3] and the final reports that will be presented by the Special Rapporteur of the Commission for Social Development on disability to that Commission;

6. Calls upon States and the regional commissions, in cooperation with the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, the Division for Social Policy and Development of the Secretariat and the Special Rapporteur of the Commission for Social Development on monitoring the implementation of the Standard Rules on the Equalization of Opportunities for Persons with Disabilities, to hold regional meetings or seminars to contribute to the work of the Ad Hoc Committee by making recommendations regarding the content and practical measures that should be considered in the international convention;

7. Requests the Secretary-General to provide all financial resources to the Ad Hoc Committee to enable it to discharge its responsibilities, and to promote voluntary contributions to strengthen its work, in particular, by facilitating the participation of experts from developing countries;

8. Also requests the Secretary-General to submit a report to the General Assembly at its fifty-seventh session on the progress made by the Ad Hoc Committee.
